PRESENTATION ON TRAFFIC ENGINEERING REPORT

Executive Director McCartney requested George Alexandridis, Chief Engineer to provide a brief presentation regarding the Traffic Engineering Report, and what the impact will have on the proposed 2007 financing,

George Alexandridis addresses the meeting and said:

“Before we get to this presentation I would like Frank Tolotta to describe the plan in place given the fact that we are going to be reducing the number of toll lanes available on the Route One Bridge starting today. Mr. Tolotta will describe how we are going to try and accommodate potential congestion, infused by the operating plan.”

Frank Tolotta, Deputy Executive Director of Operations addressed the meeting and said:

“Essentially we are at the point of the Trenton Morrisville Route One contract where we are going to move down to temporary toll lanes and temporary toll booths down to four lanes in order to alleviate potential traffic congestion and we are going to station a look out so to speak at the Broad Street overpass and once we see a queue during the rush hour get to that point we are going to try and flush the traffic through and we’re going to do that by lifting the gates. Although they will still be paying tolls, lifting the gates during that timeframe will flush the traffic through faster and we will be monitoring from four to about six-thirty probably.”

Executive Director McCartney then said:

“I think the public outreach has been excellent on this project, we are going to have some increased congestions, but long term improvement.”

Chief Engineer Alexandridis said:

“The purpose of the traffic engineer report is to determine the Year 2007 objective debt revenues will be at least 130% of the maximum annual debt service and at the projected debt service coverage ratio of not less than 130%. If you take a look at the numbers, the actual numbers of actual revenue and expenditures for the Year 2006 essentially net revenue was 50 million dollars and our 130% of our maximum annual debt service was 19,597,000,00, so we had more than adequate coverage on our debt service in 2006. In terms of the types of methodology that we used to look at volume traffic projections, we review traffic volume trends and those trends are reviewed on a bridge by bridge basis and on vehicle classification basis and they determine what the initial growth factors would be for each vehicle classification at each particular bridge. They then looked at roadway projects that could shift traffic volumes at individual bridges. They do a literature search if you will, to find out what is happening out there which would affect shifts in traffic on bridges and they also review development projects that are out there and could affect the traffic and the growth factors on each individual bridge. All of those are taken into account. In terms of the development projects which would be most difficult to project, for a development project to affect traffic volumes and revenues, it should meet the following criteria: It should be obviously relatively close to a toll bridge; it should be a large development and it should not have a nearby similar competing use on the other side of the Delaware River, and there are examples in the report that indicate those particular developments that are coming up in 2007 that would be affecting traffic on our bridges. These are all taken into account when we develop the volumes, so if we take a look now at objective revenue and expenditures for 2007 on a bridge by bridge basis there are and the projected revenues are 81 million and the projected traffic is 38 million 631 thousand vehicles. In terms of the net revenue, it is forecast that the net revenue will include about 49.4 million dollars. The maximum annual debt service and this is for the debt service for our current bonds as they now stand, will be 50 million dollars so it's a total of our coverage ratio will be at 3.28. Now, that debt service will change as we begin to look at bonding requirements for these particular years.”

Chairman DeGerolamo said:

“If you take into account the proposed financing that you do in 2007, it will require a revenue modification adjustment, if you will, in order to maintain the minimum coverage ratio in 2008. What is our current rating?”

Executive Director McCartney said:

“We're an A rating. We' are an A minus one, but I think we will probably improve our position assuming we keep our structure consistent. Our rating will probably improve. This year we are also going to be rated by FINCH and they seem to be more focused on transportation. They do more research.”
Chairman DeGerolamo said:

“What is the time line for that to be done? There is no time line here beyond that?”

Executive Director McCartney said:

“We had them in last year and they gave a preliminary rating. In the next 60 days we are going to be spending a fair amount of time looking at the bond issue and our rating.”

Chief Engineer Alexandridis said:

“In summary, the traffic report estimates that the increase in vehicles of about 450,000 over 2006 for an increase of about 1.2% and the estimated revenue increase of about a million dollars to 1.25%.”

At the conclusion of the presentation and discussion, Chairman DeGerolamo then asked if there were any further questions or comments.
