EXECUTIVE DIRECTORS REPORT

Good morning.

Before I outline some of the noteworthy action items on today’s meeting agenda, I want to call attention to the successful initiation of the Commission’s new Motorist Assistance Program that began operating last week.

Under this program – we call it MAP – the Commission is providing an array of services to help stranded motorists on our toll bridges and related approach roadways. The service is provided by our maintenance workers during weekday business hours. At all other times, it is provided by the respective officer in charge at each toll bridge. All seven of our toll bridge patrol vehicles have been outfitted with heavy-duty push bumpers, 3-ton service jacks, jump-start batteries, standard and metric tool kits, and various auto fluids. Signs informing motorists of the new service and access phone numbers have been posted at each toll bridge. In the first three days of operation last week, the service handled five calls ranging from pushing a disabled vehicle out of traffic to inflating a flat tire.

The service comes at a good time, because the traffic and revenue numbers in the February operations report show an increase in driving compared to what we saw in January. Average daily automobile traffic went from 76,106 vehicles in January to 81,626 in February. Average daily truck traffic – our most significant revenue generator – went from 11,297 vehicles in January to 11,925 in February. Revenues also took an upward path last month. Average daily revenue went from $203,383 in January to $222,184 in February. While these are positive outcomes, the data from single month’s experience is insufficient for determining whether a sustained recovery trend is taking root. We should have better insights on this at next month’s meeting, when a full quarter’s worth of data can be compiled and analyzed. For the moment, though, there appears to be some brightening on the horizon.

Turning to today’s agenda, a resolution has been prepared for adopting the Commission’s $142,404,000 capital plan for 2009. The capital plan catalogues the various planning and construction activities we expect to perform this year for purposes of improving, rehabilitating or repairing our transportation infrastructure. This is strictly a planning document – a guideline, a blueprint. Individual capital projects – including specific budgets and contracts -- are approved separately by the Commission. If fully implemented, this plan would constitute the largest single-year investment in the Commission’s 75-year history. This, in turn, would have an economic jumpstarting effect. Using figures provided by the Associated General Contractors of America, we calculate that the capital plan’s infrastructure component could help create or sustain as many as 4,030 jobs in the construction, materials supply, engineering, and back-office service sectors.
Today's agenda also includes resolutions for two Compact Authorized Investment program grants. One resolution reallocates the $2.1 million balance of a $3,120,000 grant that had been awarded to Easton in 2005. This money – which was originally intended for the Riverwalk intermodal project – will now be assigned to the city's Waterfront Improvement Project. The second CAI resolution awards a $665,239 grant for a road reconstruction project to be carried out by Alpha Borough in cooperation with Pohatcong Township. The project will finish improvements along Edge Road, which divides the two municipalities and which provides residents with an alternate route around I-78's Still Valley Interchange with Route 22.

Like our capital plan, these grants are an investment in our host communities. They will provide transportation-related dividends that will serve generations of residents and travelers as well as provide immediate economic stimulus for our two states.
